

MYSTERY SHROUDS SHOOTING OF BOY

Rival Cherry Hill Gangs Refuse to Reveal Name of Man Who Wounded Charles Donohue in the Head.

MISTAKEN FOR ANOTHER.

No Information Will Be Given Until It Is Learned Whether Assailant Is a Fellower of Monk Eastman or Paul Kelly.

No matter what the circumstances are of a Cherry Hill shooting affair every body from Oak street to The Gap is always mysterious. The rival gangs were more mysterious to-day because they couldn't tell what was at the bottom of the shooting of Charles Donohue, fifteen years old, of No. 14 Cherry street. Some of the "Cherry-Pickers" were inclined to think that the shooting was done by one of the "Monk" Eastman crowd, but young Donohue never has been mixed up in any of the feuds. He is a good boy.

Donohue, with some other boys of the neighborhood, was decorating a club-room in the basement of No. 88 Roosevelt street when a man walked in and shot at him. The bullet hit the boy in the head, inflicting a slight wound.

The news of the shooting started all sorts of rumors. One was that a Monk Eastman had come down from Stanton street, running for a Take-Yake and that he had mistaken Donohue for the person he was seeking. Another report was that the man who fired the shot was one of the Paul Kelly gang.

Both theories are scouted by the police of the Oak street precinct. They have questioned everyone in the Hill, but no information was given that tended to identify the man who fired the shot. Nor will any information be given to the police until it has been determined whether Donohue's assailant is a Monk Eastman or a Paul Kelly follower.

BATTERY'S STUDENT IS NEAR TO DEATH

O'Connell, Known on the Water-front as "the Scholar," Is Found Unconscious with the Gas Turned On.

LIVED AMONG HIS BOOKS.

He Bought Rare Editions, Patronized Libraries and Was an Authority Among His Associates in the Custom-House.

The Battery district and the Custom House are full of discussion and comment to-day over the fact that W. J. O'Connell was found unconscious from gas in his room in the East Side Hotel at No. 14 South street. O'Connell is in Hudson Street Hospital so close to death that the physicians fear he will succumb to the poison.

In the Custom House and about the South Ferry neighborhood O'Connell was known as "The Scholar." He was a storekeeper in the Custom House, a man of middle age and extremely reticent about his own affairs. Although possessed of a good education he had a mania for improving his mind and all of his spare time was spent in reading or in studying.

He attended night schools and lectures, drew books from libraries and spent his spare money for rare volumes. When he condescended to talk about matters of current interest his word went as law among the men of the water front. He had the best room in the East Side Hotel.

A policeman who knew O'Connell saw him at the Staten Island ferry-house at 2 o'clock this morning. The policeman spoke, but O'Connell did not answer. A little while later the policeman saw him walking along the bulkhead north of the ferry-house of the South Brooklyn line.

What time he entered his room at the hotel is not known. Henry Lohman, one of the proprietors, smelled gas in the hallway soon after daylight and traced the odor to O'Connell's room. The door was forced and he was found in bed, undressed, with the gas turned on. Unless he recovers consciousness South street will talk for days about whether O'Connell turned on the gas accidentally or with suicidal intent.

Early Shoppers at Lambert's Buy at Their Ease

In the last few days before Christmas the happiest people are those whose shopping is over. They have avoided the discomfort of shoving and elbowing their way to the counters, and then waiting impatiently until a salesman could serve them. They are not worrying about the prompt delivery of their gifts, and since they have devoted the forenoon to shopping they have avoided those mistakes and misunderstandings often inseparable from business done amid crowds and excitement.

Moral: Buy your Christmas gifts at the LAMBERT store early in the day and let us lay them away for you until you want them. We show you at the Christmas Corner a stock of gold and diamond jewelry unequalled in this town for size, completeness and moderation in price. We show you watches and clocks differing in a hundred details, but alike in this, that each is the best of its kind, and is guaranteed by a house with a history of 27 years of honest dealing.

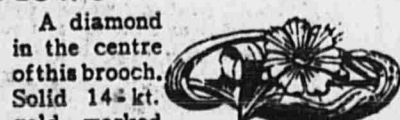

We are large manufacturers. What we do not produce we buy direct of the makers. Our diamonds are chosen for us by one of the firm, who visits Europe every year. Our system abolishes middlemen's profits, and that is one great reason why our goods are so low in price.

The iris suggested the design for these 2 brooches, both solid 14-kt. gold, rose finish and enamelled.

They Bring Us Much Good Will.

LAMBERT Seamless wedding rings were the first articles of jewelry we made 27 years ago. We have them of all widths, and no matter how much work is on hand this branch of our business is always intrusted to our most skillful artisans. Every wedding ring we sell is made in the LAMBERT factory and carries the LAMBERT guarantee. The rings are 14, 18 and 22 kt. Prices begin at $3 and end at $20. On these sales there is little direct profit, but much gain in hearty good will. No charge for engraving.

Simple, Solid and Dignified.

This watch is not as ornate as some of the others, and you get only a vague idea of it from the cut; but it has an air of solid dignity which commends it to everybody that sees it. Solid 14-karat gold hunting case, engine turned, with carefully engraved shield. Your choice of Elgin, Waltham or LAMBERT works. Price $50.00.

Fountain Pens in Silver Filigree.

The usefulness of a Fountain Pen makes it an especially desirable gift. Here is a Waterman Ideal (nothing more need be said of its quality), the rubber case being covered with sterling silver filigree. A dainty and practical addition to the equipment of a writing desk. We have them in several styles and at various prices. The pen herewith pictured sells for $5.00.

Watch Set With Fine Diamond.

In the back of this watch glitters a small but fine diamond. Solid 14-karat gold polished basine hunting case, with front plain for monogram, which we will engrave without extra charge. Your choice of Waltham, Elgin or LAMBERT works. Price, $25. Man's New Model.

Opera Glasses—All Styles and Prices.

The words of thanks come with special heartiness from the recipient of opera glasses as a Christmas gift. We import them direct; hence can sell them lower than any jeweller who must pay middlemen's profits. The pearl opera glasses shown in the cut have gilt tubes and extension handles. Price $10. We have many other styles.

Eye-glasses, Spectacles, etc.

Our optical department supplies solid gold, gold filled and steel eyeglasses and spectacles, of which we have a line that any firm might be proud of. No charge for fitting; careful and courteous attention given here, as everywhere else in the LAMBERT establishment. Trained optician in charge.

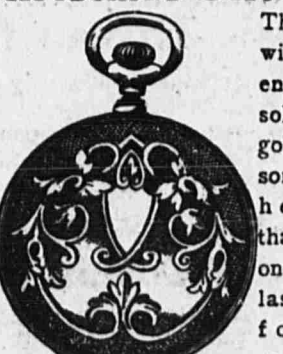

The Best of Vest Chains.

Vest chains are displayed in a greater number of patterns than you can find at any other store in the city. This is not boasting, but hard fact. We buy chains of a manufacturer who directly superintends every branch of his business, from purchasing the gold to selling the finished product. He has cut the cost of manufacture down to the lowest figure, and you benefit by his knowledge and skill. Our prices range from $12 to $60, according to the weight. Every chain guaranteed.

To-day we exhibit two simple but admirable samples of solid 14-karat gold Vest Chains, regular length. Price $12.50; double vest or Dickens, $16.

Price $20.00; double vest or Dickens, $27.50.

A Welcome Christmas-Gift.

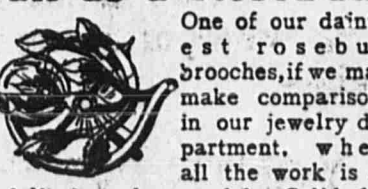

This watch, with richly engraved solid 14-kt. gold case, is somewhat heavier than the one we sold last season for the same money. A delightful Christmas gift for a lady; choice of Waltham, Elgin or LAMBERT works. A watch to be proud of and a faithful timekeeper. No where else can you get as pretty or as good a watch for the money. $18.00

Knot Brooch, Handsome and Low Priced.

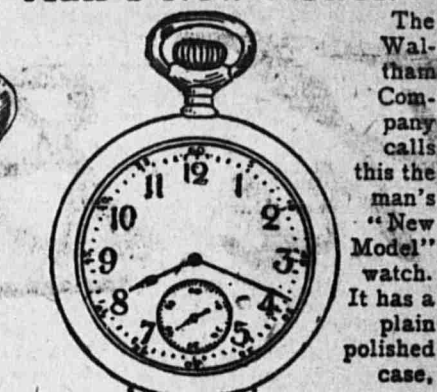

Half of this solid 14-karat gold knot brooch is plain and half is engraved and enamelled. The contrast between the two parts gives a unique charm. Selected diamond in the centre. Price $15.00

Fair as a Rosebud.

One of our daintiest rosebud brooches, if we may make comparisons in our jewelry department, where all the work is so delicate and graceful. Solid 14-karat gold, with baroque pearl and enamelled flower; diamonds in centre. Price $30.00.

The Waltham Company calls this the man's "New Model" watch. It has a plain polished case, open face. Choice of Waltham or Elgin works. Price, $22.50.

Every Diamond Our Own Importation.

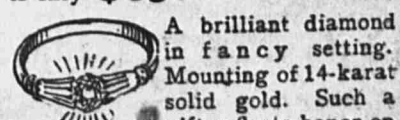

The full beauty of this fine stone is developed in the skillful cutting. Solid 14-karat gold, hand-made mounting. Would cost a fancy price at some of the other stores, because importers' and jobbers' profits would be added. Diamond is about the size shown in the cut. Price, $90.

This beautiful diamond, like all the others we sell, is our own importation, and will please the eyes of every lover of fine stones. Solid 14-kt. gold mounting. Price, $25.

Here you see a pair of diamonds so alike in size and brilliancy that only an expert could tell the difference. Solid 14-karat gold, hand-made mounting. A credit even to the LAMBERT workmen, and the price is only $65.

A brilliant diamond in fancy setting. Mounting of 14-karat gold. Such a gift reflects honor on the giver. Price, $25.

"KING CALF"

Not one hide in every dozen is good enough to be made into "King Calfskin."

Only one tannery in America—our own—can be trusted to tan it right every time. Tanning is like photography. Every hide is first "developed," like a negative—then "fixed." As much depends upon skill and care in this, as upon the material used. Under-development fails to bring out the finest features of leather,—its pliancy, smoothness and preservation.

Over-development ruins its fibrous strength. Regal tanneries were necessary to know when hides were developed carefully enough to deserve the brand "King Calf."

"King Calf" is tanned for and used only in the Regal shoe. The soft and pliable qualities of "King Calf" do not prevent its being the best wearing stock tanned. It wears like iron. With its highly finished surface, it is easily cared for, quickly polished, holding its luster as no other leather can.

"King Calfskin" was necessary in Regal shoe uppers, to equal the wear of their costly "Live-Oak" soles.

Tannery-to-Consumer economies were necessary to give you $6.00 Regal Shoes for $3.50 per pair.
